

MONTHLY MEETING
MONDAY, FEBRUARY 3rd - 2 PM

On the agenda.....
--Program Enhancement
--Calendar Review
--Public Relations Report
--Fund Raising

JANUARY MEETING NOTES

The new meeting hour of 2 PM seemed to be agreeable to all and we had our usual lively discussion. We are always pleased to welcome the associate members who join us and lend their very appreciated support.

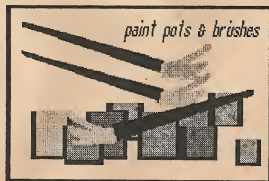

The Constitution and By-laws Committee presented their proposed revisions. With minor alterations, the new format should be ready for presentation and vote at the Spring meeting. Further discussion on exhibition rules was postponed to a later meeting.

For our enlarged program expectations and the revamping of our persona, a program committee is being formed under the guidance of Lou Bonamarte.

WORKSHOP PROGRAM

Winter classes in painting and sculpture are underway this month in the gallery.

The new Spring course schedule will be available next month and classes will be starting at the end of March or first of April.

Norm Legassie (434-8436) would like to hear from members interested in joining his group of instructors.....and students-to-be with special requests.

MEMORIES ANYONE????

We are eager to get the LYME ART ASSOCIATION's archives in good order for presentation to our members.....and to the public.....as a resource for scholars, historians, etc. To that end, we need to collate all the old records, catalogue the library in greater detail and collect the memories of our members.

Our archivists, Lida Fry and Rachel Armstrong, would like to do oral histories with association members and area residents. If you have suggestions or memories to share, please call Rachel (739-4657) or Lida (464-0289).

There are currently four members working on this project according to Lida Fry.....and many more would be welcome to help with this fascinating work. ASSOCIATE MEMBERS.....please call.....to participate or to contribute memories.

ARTISTS AT WORK

At the Lyman Allyn in New London, JOANNE BALLINGER is conducting two PASTEL PAINTING classes, a Friday AM class starting on January 17th (12 wks) and an evening class for all levels starting on January 29th (8 wks.). Beginning January 16th, she will monitor a Thursday AM studio class (12 wks - live model.) On January 22nd at 7:30 PM, BALLINGER will be doing a pastel demonstration in East Hampton. Call 886-0366 for more info.....E.B.ATWOOD is showing woodcuts and colored pencil drawings at the Merrimeeting Studio in Old Lyme. Call 434-1291 for information or appointment.....At the Crow's Nest Gallery in Waterford, HELEN SCHINK is showing oils, acrylics and watercolors. Call her at 443-4823 for information about classes.

